This free half-day seminar is designed to increase the knowledge base of education, health and social care staff in relation to working with Muslim children and their families. There will be three talks during the morning as well as opportunities for discussion about your particular practice context. There will be a particular emphasis in the material presented on children of primary school age.

Topics covered will include:

- Cultural competence.
- Islam: summary of key beliefs and practices.
- Muslims in Britain: history, demography and developments.
- Religious nurture in middle childhood: Commonality and diversity.
- Children's learning about Islam in the home.
- Supplementary education.

Speakers from the university and the local Muslim community.
