

Faiths and Civil Society Unit

WHAT SHOULD SCHOOLS TEACH ABOUT RELIGION?

The sixth event in the FCSU Fellows' Seminar Series 2013-14: Faith in the Public Realm

16 July 2014, 5:00-7:00pm, Free
New Academic Building, LG01
Goldsmiths, New Cross, London
SE14 6NW

There is a newly invigorated national conversation around the future of RE underway in the UK, which reveals a lack of clarity about how and where learning about religion and belief should take place, what it should consist of, and what it is for. This seminar brings together experts in intercultural education and RE to discuss these issues through the lens of 'religious literacy'.

Chaired by Professor Adam Dinham
(Goldsmiths, University of London)

To book a free place email Tim Stacey
(t.stacey@gold.ac.uk)

With:

3FF

THREE FAITHS FORUM

Joyce Miller
Chair elect of the RE Council

Martha Shaw
Goldsmiths, University of London

Stephen Shashoua
Director of 3FF

Aisling Cohn
Schools Manager, 3FF